

Symposium on neutrons & life science

Tuesday, 19 January 2021

The relative importance of different technologies for protein structure determination from the perspective of a South African Structural Biologist - Trevor Sewell (University of Cape Town, SA) (09:55 - 10:10)