

Introduction

The European Spallation Source ERIC (ESS) takes the privacy rights of individuals very seriously. ESS complies with personal data laws (GDPR) by keeping your personal data up-to-date, protecting your information from loss, misuse, unauthorised access and disclosure by ensuring appropriate technical measures are in place.

1. What personal data will you process?

ESS will process the following personal data from you:

- a) Full name
- b) E-mail
- c) Affiliation (self, university, institute)

2. How will you use my information?

We will use your personal data to confirm your attendance. We reserve the right to use your personal data in order to fulfill legal, contractual, or similar obligations placed upon ESS.

3. Will my personal data be sent to countries outside the EEA?

Yes. We will share your personal information with the local organisers in order to confirm your attendance in accordance with the GDPR. This particular event is being staged in the United States of America and the local organisers need to know who is attending.

4. Why are you allowed to use my personal data?

ESS has a legitimate business interest in collecting and using your personal data to ensure only those with a genuine interest in the SasView Contributor Camp are granted attendance.

5. How long is my personal data stored?

Your personal data (i.e., the application to register for the Conference) will be stored in the ESS IT system until 60 days after the workshop. At the end of this period, this personal data will be deleted from the ESS IT system.

6. Photographs

ESS uses photographs taken during visits to ESS premises or at ESS events, or events of affiliated organisations it supports, to promote our facility and our activities. ESS has a right to use such photographs for public interest since we are a non-profit organisation and should inform the public about our activities. These photographs will be stored on ESS IT systems for the lifetime of the facility. Separately, the local organisers may use the same or different photographs to promote their work.

7. What rights do I have?

Unless subject to an exception, you have:

- (a) The right to withdraw consent at any time for any reason;
- (b) The right to request a copy of your personal data held by ESS;
- (c) The right to request ESS transmit your personal data to another data controller/entity;
- (d) The right to request ESS correct any personal data if it is found to be inaccurate or out-of-date;
- (e) The right to request your personal data be erased when it is no longer necessary for ESS to retain such data;
- (f) The right to request a restriction on further processing when there is a dispute over the accuracy of personal data stored;
- (g) The right to lodge a complaint with the Swedish Data Protection Authority (Sw: Datainspektionen).

8. Who can I contact?

You may submit questions or exercise your rights by e-mail to privacy@esss.se

If you believe there has been a violation of your personal data protection rights, you may e-mail privacy@esss.se to discuss a solution.

At any time, you have the right to communicate directly with the Swedish Data Protection Authority (Sw: Datainspektionen) at:
